PARTS IS PARTS EDITION

Austin, November 11. Growing up around the 50s dinner table, 'not sure when we were each assigned the piece of chicken that would always be "ours" for life, but the skinny sister always got the wings...she said she liked 'em...figures. Her two chubbette siblings were assigned drumsticks -- which we detest to this day.

*But we all vied for the pulleybone. So when was the last time you actually saw that piece in the chicken parts dept? ...lost to the ages. They don't cut up chicken like our mothers did back then. Etched forever in the heart's memory is holding one end of the wishbone and jerking sharply straight up...and it would break long every time...we were the fam wishbone champ. Which 'pretty much guaranteed glory but didn't get us out of doing the dishes *sigh* ...but ... it brings the mind to wonder: we could do an old-fashioned chop job on the turkey and batter-fry that thing ... experience the giant pulleybone.. *ooooo* think of the ginormous wishpotential. Might could even catch the lottery fairies offguard with that one!*

We are thinking you didn't know what the Austin High Red Jackets looked like these days. Well here you go. You will notice there are no red jackets or little white gloves, and that's not Mrs. Herndon either. And this is a dance team which performs at regional and national competitions and teaches children's dance clinics.

AND, JUST FYI TO THE '63 FOOTBALL GUYS how about THIS for a hot idea:

The Maroons have just finished a 7-3 season and are gearing up for a huge playoff game against Pflugerville Hendrickson -- this Friday the 13th, 7:30p at Pflugerville Hendrickson HS. Tickets are $9 at the gate. We are thinking somebody could get up a tailgater for that! what a fun idea.

and finally, here it is....claudia's little list of turkey birthdays
